Dear Mr. [REDACTED]:

Enclosed is a revised drawing showing the fencing, etc., considered necessary and desirable at [REDACTED]. Also, a revised draft of specifications covering the proposed work.

25X1A

You will note several changes to plans previously discussed. Factors on which these changes are based are as follows:

a. You will note that the fence along the line dividing the two sections of the property has been left intact, except for [REDACTED] since the new lease is based upon the former boundaries.

b. Removal of old fencing has been eliminated from proposed work. It is the opinion here that this is not work required by the Government, and if lessees desire removal, they themselves can effect such removal.

c. It has been determined that sections of existing fence should be grounded as well as insulated. The specifications have been revised accordingly, and the sections of fence so shown on the revised drawing.

d. There has been added to the specifications a requirement to erect 50 U. S. Property signs. The signs can be purchased from Public Buildings Service. They should be placed at corners around the property line, roughly every 500 feet, replacing certain of the  $\frac{1}{2}$ " pipes. You will be furnished a marked print showing suggested locations for the signs.

For your information, the insulators specified for the work under this contract sell for approximately 12¢ apiece, as opposed to those  apparently figured on previously.

In order to simplify the contractual aspects of the work, it is desired to have this handled as a modification to the original contract. Unless the figure appears reasonable, however, it will be preferable to invite other bidders, in which case you may call upon the Public Buildings Service to be of assistance, and you may also wish to invite the antenna Contractor to figure the job. If  figure is acceptable, the information will be incorporated into the regular modification form~~s~~ here.

Very truly yours,
